

George Bailey, CEO

George Bailey learned most of his management skills growing up on his family ranch in Roundup, Montana. Mr. Bailey spent years teaching and coaching in schools in every corner of Montana. He served as a school superintendent and was chosen by his colleagues as the president of the Montana Association of School Superintendents in 1994. He managed multi-million budgets and 100s of employees in throughout Montana. He worked for eight years at University of Montana as Assistant to Vice President of Research and Development and helped the University commercialize research into products and services that created high paying wage jobs.