

Gleb Sych is a third-year medical student at the Pacific Northwest University of Health Sciences, currently completing his clinical rotations in Olympia, WA. He serves on the Economic Inequity & Health Taskforce of Washington Physicians for Social Responsibility and is a board member of All Aboard Washington. Gleb's primary interests lie in family and addiction medicine, and he is an advocate for improving public transportation accessibility and reforming Washington state's tax code.